THREE MEN ARE SHOT AFTER ROW IN SALOON

Austrian Liquor Seller Dead, an Officer Shot in the Leg and Man Dying as Result of Controversy Over I. W. W.

POLICE PURSUE SLAYER AND 100 SHOTS FIRED

Wounded Man Says He Was Thrown Out of Saloon After Quarrel, But Denies Shooting Keeper; Thug Tale Told

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Emil Boehm is dead, another man is dying and a police officer is shot in the leg following what the police believe have been a quarrel over I. W. W. policies in Boehm's saloon, Fourth and Tehama streets, early this morning, which wound up with the firing of 100 shots by a posse of policemen from the southern station in an attempt to capture the murderer, who had taken refuge behind a brick wall at St. Vincent's school.

The dead, Emil Boehm, Austrian I. W. W. saloonkeeper of Fourth and Tehama streets.

Dying: CARL LEIBENAUER, 22, shot through the right chest; THOMAS JOHNSON, 40, policeman, shot through the leg after a running battle with Boehm's murderer.

HOLD-UP STORY IS FIRST TOLD

The first report of the case was that Boehm had been shot by a hold-up man when he went to the rescue of a citizen who was being held up in front of his saloon as he was closing up at 2 o'clock this morning, and that the robber turned on the unarmed man and shot him three times.

These shots attracted La Baron, who took up the chase and was in the saloon when the shooting broke out. The firing brought a posse from the southern station, which surrounded the St. Vincent school yard, and was held off by the bandit until his ammunition was exhausted. He then climbed the wall and escaped.

This morning the proprietor of the Harrison Hotel reported to the southern police station his suspicions regarding a guest who had registered under the name of Carl Leibenauer shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

An investigation revealed that Leibenauer was suffering from a gunshot wound in the chest, and on being taken to the Central Emergency Hospital made a dying statement to Deputy District Attorney Joseph McShane.

THROWN OUT OF SALOON AND SHOT

It is said that he had been in Boehm's saloon drinking from midnight until the place closed, and that he had quarreled with Boehm over an article which appeared in an I. W. W. paper printed in New York called "The Rebel Worker," for which Boehm, a member of that organization, was a subscriber.

Boehm had then thrown him out of the place and locked the door. He heard a shot fired and did not know who shot him, but he was wounded until taken into custody at the hotel.

A German bartender of Boehm's, who told the police the hold-up story, was detained as a witness, and Mrs. Katherine Boehm, who said she saw her husband shot by the bandit and La Baron chasing after the robber, is also being questioned again.

Leibenauer is steadfast in his statement that he knows nothing of the shooting of Boehm, but the police believe that he wrested a revolver from the saloonkeeper's hand, with which he was being threatened, and killed Boehm.

Girl Slayer Calm Insanity Is Plea Trial Opened

RUTH GARRISON, Confessed Poisoner, Wonders if Storrs Loves Her

SEATTLE, May 5.—Love for the husband of another woman and her determination to possess that man which resulted in the deliberate poisoning and death of the wife, is the charge against Ruth Garrison, 18-year-old Seattle girl, who now will battle for her own life in the courts. Her case is said to be one of the most remarkable in the criminal annals of the state, for according to the confession the police say she made, this slip of a girl arranged and calculated the doom of her rival with all the care and coldbloodedness of any of the famous poisoners known to history. The trial started today.

Ruth Garrison, on March 13 last, invited Mrs. Grace Storrs, 28 years old, to luncheon with her in the tea room of a department store and, according to the confession the girl gave, she said to have made, picked poison in a cocktail designed for her guest before the latter's arrival. Death came to Mrs. Storrs in the emergency hospital of the city.

GRAND PLEADED

IGNORANCE OF AFFAIR.

Douglas M. Storrs, the dead woman's husband, an automobile mechanic of Olanoguan, Wash., surprised the girl in the kitchen, where she was making the cocktail, and knew nothing of the case, being in Olanoguan at the time. He was arrested on a felony charge. Miss Garrison is said to have confessed she had killed her rival, where she registered as Mrs. Storrs.

Miss Garrison's attorneys, Thomas M. Asken and A. K. Hilen, entered the girl's plea of "not guilty." They asked the girl was insane when she poisoned Mrs. Storrs, but later, they claimed, regained her sanity.

"What's the matter? Are you ill?" she asked Mrs. Storrs, who asked Mrs. Storrs from her dying from the effects of the fatal cocktail. Although the police thought possibly Mrs. Storrs took her own life, she died at 1:30 o'clock on the morning of March 19 at the home of her uncle, J. D. Esary, president of the Island Transportation Company.

MISS GARRISON'S PLEA.

She told the jury that she knew anything about the case of the girl's death. All day of the trial she held to the point, but later took the police to the drug store where she had purchased the poison and told them in detail of her actions on the day of the death.

"I was crazy," she is reported to have said. "I acted on an impulse that came to me the morning before I lunched with Mrs. Storrs." The girl shed no tears. "It is too late for that now," she is stated to have said. Miss Garrison's one expressed hope was to be permitted to see Storrs.

Storrs was not allowed to see Miss Garrison. He stated, however, that he intended to do all he could to help her. He did not appear anxious to see the girl nor did he express any desire to attend his wife's funeral.

Will Ruth Garrison's lawyers base their attempt to prove "temporary insanity" the cause of the confessed killing of Grace Storrs upon the theory that for two years the defendant had carried an injection of paraffin in her forehead?

This question has been raised by Mrs. J. O. Garrison, mother of Ruth, in the first interview she has given to any newspaper since Ruth's arrest, published today, coincident with the mother's revelation that Ruth underwent a catarrhal operation two years ago, in the course of which a considerable amount of paraffin was injected into her forehead between the eyes.

AUTHORITY FOR DECOTO MOVE IS QUESTIONED

City Commissioner Renews Pledge to Co-operate, But Asks District Attorney His Legal Right for Demands

Petersen Is Criticized for Going to County Official With His Charges Night Before, Ordered to Morse Hearing

Assurance to District Attorney Ezra Decoto that he will turn over the "graff" evidence obtained in his hearing of the case, coupled with a criticism of Decoto's demand, on the ground that he had no legal right to make it was the answer today to Commissioner F. F. Morse, Decoto's demand that all transcripts of the hearing in Morse's office, in which charges against Chief of Police J. H. Neddard and Commissioner F. F. Morse were made, be turned over to him for grand jury consideration. That Morse maintain secrecy regarding the evidence and that he cease his "hearing."

"The answer of Morse criticizes Captain Walter J. Petersen, who made the original charges, for taking up the matter with Decoto. The letter to the district attorney is as follows:

"May 3, 1919.
"Mr. Ezra Decoto.
"Oakland, Cal.
"Dear Sir:

"I received your letter of May 3 after you had given it to the public press demanding that I give you the transcript of all testimony taken before me in my investigation of the alleged police graft.

"By what authority do you make such demand? The law gives authority only to the grand jury investigation if you believe that or graft received. At such investigation you subpoena witnesses and require them to bring any record that will assist you in determining whether or not any crime has been committed.

"If you do not proceed in the manner authorized by law at once, I am at a loss to understand why this matter has assumed such importance in your office. The detail given to you by Captain Petersen was on Friday, April 25, at 8:30 a. m., two hours and a half before you had ordered Captain Petersen to advise before me on the following morning and give his evidence. These are the sworn statements of Captain Petersen. Did it not seem strange to you that a police officer should be required to appear before a commission of the city of Oakland to give testimony concerning alleged police graft should suddenly request a night interview with you and give you only oral statements?

MISREPRESENTATION IS CHARGED TO DECOTO

"When you appeared before me on April 25, at 9 a. m., and requested the alleged police graft, you stated that you had been given the matter for consideration for some time and needed a single piece of evidence to make your investigation complete. You did not tell me that you had not received a single detail of the matter from Captain Petersen until 5:30 p. m. of the night before. If I had known such to be the fact, I certainly would not have granted your request for a continuance.

"I trust that you are dealing with this subject matter in good faith. I assure you that it will not be necessary to repeat your 'demand' letter. Although I volunteered previously to give you all information which I received, I renew the promise at this time so that you may be reassured.

"Yours truly,
"F. F. MORSE.
"Commissioner of Public Health and Safety."

NO MORE EVIDENCE IN MORSE HEARING

"I don't know what a captain of inspectors is supposed to do around here if it is not to report graft when he sees it," was Petersen's comment when he heard of the letter. "I had supposed that this was my duty; it seems that in conveying the state of affairs here I have done a reprehensible thing."

Morse said that no further evidence had been taken in his investigation of the police graft situation. Today he ordered a half holiday for the Victory Loan at the city hall, the matter rested with the letter.

Decoto says that he is preparing his evidence for early action.

THE HAMPERS INVESTIGATION

District Attorney Decoto replied to Morse as follows:

"I am not interested in any personal controversy between Mr. Morse and Captain Petersen. I do intend, however, in spite of the many obstacles thrown in my way by Mr. Morse and in spite of all the efforts he has made to hinder me in my investigations, to make a full, fair and impartial investigation of the charges made by Captain Petersen. I am exceedingly sorry that a man who occupies a position of trust under the city government has shown himself so hostile to a fair investigation of these matters. The city charter should be amended so that it would be impossible for him to

Consul Kidnaped by Bolsheviki Is Finally Released

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Roger C. Tredwell, the American consul, who was arrested by the Russian Bolsheviki last October, has arrived in Stockholm. He advised the state department today that he was taken from Moscow to Finland several weeks ago and there released.

The arrest of Tredwell, who held a roving commission from the state department at Washington, is a contravention, in the opinion of officials of the department, of every international law.

In a cable to the state department Tredwell said that he was first arrested on March 15, but was quickly released and the Bolsheviki authorities offered their apologies for the occurrence. He was arrested on February 4 last, the Bolsheviki took him to prison, where he was kept in a cell for five hours and led to believe by his captors that he would be executed. The chief of police and the local soviet officials, however, finally released him, saying his imprisonment was an error. A representative of the Danish government, arrested at the same time also was released.

Decoto's complaint, according to Mrs. Hughes' account, continued for a period of eight months, during which time she continually refused to marry Hughes and only consented, she said, when he had caused her photos to be published in San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers with announcement of the marriage, and told her if she did not consent he would be ruined politically and his character as a man in the United States Senate would be lost.

PRISON BREAK PLAN FOILED; JAILER HURT

Sheriff Frank Barnett and Deputy J. J. Collier prevented a wholesale jail delivery at the county jail yesterday afternoon when twenty-one prisoners on the lower floor ran amok and came near killing Jailer Edgar Turner. Turner was struck down with a slungshot made of tin-foil. His cries summoned the sheriff and deputy from the jail office. With drawn revolvers they rushed the desperate men and held them at bay. The jailer on duty had taken prisoner Frank W. Kemp, held on a bad check charge, to the office to sign up for some money. As he opened the iron door to return Kemp to the corridor the twenty-one prisoners inside rushed him, one of them knocking him down with the heavy ball of tin-foil contained in a sock. As he fell he shouted for assistance. Barnett and Deputy Collier hurried to the scene and took positions in front of the men, who were endeavoring to take the outside door key from Turner. Barnett shouted to the men to stand back or he would open fire. They covered and backed away and were forced into the jail cell corridor. No weapon other than the slungshot was found on any of them. The men who attempted the escape are the most desperate set of criminals in the jail, including burglars with previous penitentiary sentences, holdup men and others. Many of them are drug addicts and dangerous characters. The attempted escape was planned.

along the identical lines of the escape accomplished by four prisoners some months ago, three of whom have never been apprehended. The sheriff is conducting an investigation to ascertain who was the ringleader. So far the men have refused to talk and it is not known who led them or who swung the slungshot. Turner was taken to the Receiving hospital and treated for a bruise over the right eye. The hospital physicians say that if the blow had landed a trifle further to the right Turner might have been killed. The ball of tin-foil weighed a pound and was as hard as a stone. The tin-foil of which it was made had been taken from packages of chewing gum and tobacco.

Honor Memory of Professor Stephens

To honor the memory of the late Professor Henry Morse Stephens of the University of California, who was a former honorary chairman of the organization in which he took a keen interest, the Sons and Daughters of Washington met last night in Chabot hall in a memorial service. The speakers were Dr. Jacob Nieto and Professor H. J. Priestly of the history department of the University of California. Professor Stephens was a believer in the program of Americanization of the foreign populations, which has come to this country to remain permanently and particularly of the unique movement which has been inaugurated among the alien citizens in Oakland. He was one of the influential men who materially assisted the Sons and Daughters of Washington during the formative period of the organization's existence.

High Costs Affect Operation Greater Revenues Required

Changes in Bell Telephone Rates - 1913 to 1918 Compared with Changes in Wages and Prices

SINCE 1913 there has been a steady increase in the price of all commodities and the products of industry, which has not been reflected in a corresponding increase in telephone rates. In order to meet the past and present high cost of telephone operation, a revenue in just proportion to the expense must be secured.

The reason is simple. The cost of telephone operation has steadily advanced both because of the increased cost of material and the increased living cost of employees. The consumer has realized the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing and for transportation. The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all of the necessities of life.

Between 1913 and 1918, commodity prices advanced 112%, wages advanced 72% and Bell Telephone rates the country over advanced only 4%. Adequate rates are needed if the service is to be maintained efficiently and on a comprehensive scale, so as to meet the increasing demands of the public.

This company is operating its telephone property under the direction of the Postmaster General for the United States Government and must secure sufficient revenue to cover the cost of rendering the service.

A Really Invisible Double Lens

You can wear Kryptok lenses for both near and distant vision without anyone being able to discover that they are double lenses.

Kryptoks represent the final development of the bifocal idea. Originating with Ben Franklin's split bifocal, double lenses were gradually improved until the cement bifocal was invented. With these lenses the reading portion was cemented to the distance lens leaving an ugly seam across the center. A very crude arrangement, but the best available at that time.

Then came Kryptoks, the final evolution of bifocals. Kryptoks answer every requirement of two pairs of glasses with the appearance and convenience of one pair. Kryptoks are the only invisible bifocals without a hump, seam or line. Seven Chinn-Beretta stores are specialists in fitting Kryptoks.

SEIZED OPIUM TO BE DESTROYED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Eighty thousand dollars worth of opium, which has lain in the headquarters of the San Francisco police department for over seven years, during which time its owner, Look Tin Eli, has sought its recovery by legal proceedings in local courts, is to be destroyed, say members of the State Board of Pharmacy.

If a court order for its destruction cannot be procured, says J. S. O'Callaghan, president of the board, the Federal government will be asked to take it out of the State.

The opium was seized and stamped in China before the present embargo against the importation of opium to this country became effective. It was purchased as an investment by Look Tin Eli, who intended to sell it later as the price increased. Look Tin Eli is the fugitive president of the China Mail Steamship Company, whose life was threatened by Chinese highlanders following the alleged scandalous purchase of the steamer Nanking by that company. He is now in China.

John F. Davis, attorney for the pharmacy board, is in Washington, where he will go over with Federal attorneys the various legal means of destroying the opium.

Award Tribune Ad Masque Prizes Movies of Big Pageant Are Shown

Many and varied were the entries at the Ad Masque for the representation of The TRIBUNE Publishing Company and the judges found it difficult to make decisions as all the entries showed considerable merit.

The winners were as follows:
First Prize, $15, Mrs. C. Fredericks, 42 Forty-first street, Oakland.
Second Prize, $10, Edwin K. Camp and son, Fifty-fourth and Broadway, Oakland.

Third Prize, $10, Mrs. H. J. Kaiser and family, Alvarado, Cal.
Fourth Prize, $5, Mrs. Anthony Dutra, 2212 Eighth avenue, Oakland.
Fifth Prize, $5, Belle Lowery, 1115 Jefferson street, Oakland.

Sixth Prize, $2.50, Charlotte Sanford, 154 Ninth avenue, Oakland.
Honorable Mention—Mrs. A. A. Has-kell, 717 Sixth street; Mrs. C. W. Howard, 3034 Shattuck ave.; Evelyn Ruth, 717 Sixth street; M. R. Dewey, 1824 Thirteenth avenue.

The Kinema Theater gave a big surprise to the thousands who flocked to the theater yesterday to see dainty Marjorie Clark in "Three Men and a Girl." The surprise was the presentation of the moving pictures of Oakland's Joy Night—the Ad Masque.

Starting with the arrival of the moving picture stars at sixteenth street depot, and depicting the events of the day, including the gorgeous Victory and Ad pageants, the "movies" have it all. The night pictures were taken with the aid of Romulus Meyers' brilliant lighting scheme. Mary MacLaren, the TRIBUNE's guest, and The TRIBUNE's own display in the Ad pageant are both vividly portrayed.

Oliver Johnson will present the print to the Ad Club to be taken by them to Portland and New Orleans for the Ad Club conventions. On the same reel is the inspection of the police department which took place Saturday.

One of the most attractive groups of the Ad Masque, Saturday evening was that impersonating "Callout," one of the products of the Western Meat Company. Johnnie Cococant, Jimmie Penant, and the Mills Malt-three seven-year-old children, dressed to the parts so that they looked like one of the company's advertisements come to life, preceded a large carton of the product itself.

FIRE SWEEPS U. S. ATLANTIC AIR SQUADRON
ROCKAWAY BEACH, L. I., May 5.—The U. S. Naval seaplanes NC-1 and NC-4, which were ready to "hop off" tomorrow to Halifax, on the first leg of the trans-Atlantic flight, were badly damaged by fire at the naval station here today. The flames threatened to destroy all three planes on which America is basing her hopes, but the NC-3 was wheeled to safety.

Lieutenant-Commander John H. Tower made a careful examination of the two damaged planes and announced that the NC-4 can be repaired before night and will make the start tomorrow. The lower elevator and the lower tail surface of the NC-4 were destroyed.

The fire started while mechanics were filling the gasoline tanks of the NC-1. Sparks flew from the electrically-driven gasoline pump and ignited gasoline on the hold of the big drum. In their eagerness to save the gasoline, the mechanics disoriented the hose through which the gasoline was being pumped and the flames spurted forth, setting fire to the lower end of the NC-1, which had made a perfect flight yesterday.

POLITICAL NOTES
At its last regular meeting Local Union No. 36 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, consisting of 1200 members, took favorable action on the proposed ordinance which provides for the "two platoon system" for the Oakland fire department. In a statement signed by George J. D. Kite, recording secretary, local No. 36 makes the following pledge:

"We unanimously endorse the 'two platoon system' from a humanitarian standpoint and ask our friends to do likewise. Appreciating the supreme sacrifices these brave firemen are making every day for the safety of the public, we pledge ourselves to work for the successful passage of ordinance No. 2, to be voted on at tomorrow's election."

Harry G. Williams, candidate for city auditor and assessor, will close his campaign tonight at a meeting to be attended by the 500 women who have voluntarily been working for him. Williams has addressed 53 meetings since the primaries.

That he is not fighting any faction or individual is the statement made by J. P. Chandler, candidate for school director No. 2. "My only aim is elected," said Chandler, "is to be a capable and just member of the board of education."

In a letter mailed out to several thousand voters last Saturday, William B. Smith, former deputy district attorney and candidate in the primary for city commissioner, urged all of his friends to support the candidacy of William J. Baggett, candidate for commissioner No. 2, in tomorrow's municipal election.

DEWEY MEDAL WINNER SPEAKS

Kingsley Says Tanlac Gave Him All 'Round Building Up—Gains Sixteen Pounds.

"Every time I got on the scales, which is about once a week, I find I have picked up three or four pounds more in weight," said K. F. Kingsley of 714 Pierson street, Oakland, in relating his experience with Tanlac recently.

Mr. Kingsley is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, in which he served as chief machinist on the battleship Baltimore. He was with the Dewey fleet in the Manila Bay "scrap," and was twice wounded by shell fragments. Mr. Kingsley is the owner of a Dewey medal which was awarded him for faithful service during that war. He is still following his old-time habit of eating and is now with the Moore Shipbuilding Company.

"If it had not been for Tanlac," he continued, "I don't believe I could have stuck to my work another month, for I was just completely broken down from overwork and long hours during the present war. In fact, I was just about ready to give up and go to the mountains for a long rest when I got to reading some interesting statements about Tanlac and sent for a bottle. I had lost forty-one pounds, going down from one hundred and seventy-five to one hundred and thirty-four, in about six months' time, and my strength left me just as fast. I would lay awake half the night, unable to sleep, and would get up in the morning more tired than on going to bed. I had no appetite and got to having attacks of indigestion, nausea and gas after every meal. I was also troubled a great deal with rheumatic pains through my shoulders, which were so bad at times I could hardly move my arms."

"But by the time I had taken two bottles of Tanlac these pains were completely gone and I had an appetite like a wolf. My stomach quit bothering me too, and then I commenced to feel better and take an interest in life once more. I have just finished my seventh bottle of Tanlac now. I have gotten sixteen pounds of my lost weight back and am feeling just fine. I am getting eight hours good, sound sleep every night, eating hearty every meal and never miss a day from work. I seem to be gaining more weight every day, and I rather enjoy watching the scales go up a little more each time I get on them. What I needed was just an all round building up, and Tanlac has certainly done that very thing."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores—Advertisement.

NINE AUTOISTS ON CASUALTY LIST SUNDAY

In an automobile accident occurring yesterday on the Snake road near its junction with the Skyline boulevard, Jan Noordwyn, acting superintendent of the Shell Oil Company's refinery at Martinez, was thrown from the machine in which he was riding with three children of J. K. Faysl of the Martinez Shell Oil plant, with Donald Keith, also an employee of the Shell plant. Noordwyn was the only one injured. He was taken to the Fabiola hospital, where, after a first diagnosis that he suffered fracture of three ribs, it was learned that he was not seriously injured.

Eight other persons are today suffering from injuries sustained in Sunday auto accidents about the bay, including four mishaps on this side and one on the San Francisco side. P. C. Frederickson, coal and food dealer of Fruitvale and candidate for commissioner at the primary election, is suffering from a broken leg as the result of an accident occurring at Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street yesterday afternoon. A machine driven by James E. Potter, 2426 East Fourteenth street, crashed into the automobile driven by Frederickson.

Others injured in the Sunday accidents were: Emerson Hart, shipworker, Berkeley; concussion of the brain. Bernard Fox, Oakland; cuts and bruises.

Jack Hesse, 576 Hill street, San Francisco; broken rib.

Mrs. Jack Hesse, same address; broken left leg.

Earl Hesse, 10, same address; cuts and bruises.

Miss May Kenny, 137 Kissing street; concussion of the brain.

Miss Nora Kenny, same address cut and bruised.

The Hesses and the Kennys were injured in an accident that occurred a mile beyond the tunnel on the Tunnel road. The machine, driven by Hesse, had turned out to give some motorcycles room to pass and the embankment crumbled, the machine hurtling into the ravine. The car turned over twice in its descent, rolling more than 100 feet.

Earl Hesse was first to recover from the shock and assisted the others who were conscious out of the machine. Then, at the foot of the road above he dragged a passing automobile and summoned help.

The injured ones were brought to the Oakland Emergency hospital by Frank W. Evans of Contra Costa county, who volunteered his auto for the purpose.

Fox was injured at Fourteenth and Clay streets when struck by an automobile driven by William Page, at Fulton and Russell streets, Berkeley, and was treated at the Roosevelt hospital for bruises and concussion of the brain.

38 ARRESTED IN LOTTERY RAIDS

Five Chinese lottery raids were conducted by the police, under Captain J. F. Lynch, last night. Four of the places netted 39 prisoners; the fifth presented an empty exterior and an open back door, and a Chinese, explaining with pardonable pride to Captain Lynch, that "policemen wait two minutes; all boys get out fine."

The police blotter looks like a directory of Chinatown today, the prisoners arrested being assorted as follows: From 378 Eighth street, 12; from 923 Franklin street, 13; from 1717 Franklin street, 9; from 1576 Franklin street, 5.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So strong liquids, it is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 25c and 50c a box. All druggists.

JAILED MONKEY PICKS OFFICER'S POCKETS; FREED

"Crown Prince," trained monkey of Manuel Luchesi, an organ grinder, is not in jail today only because the police found him too strenuous a prisoner. Desk Sergeant Lawright says he'll never monkey with another monkey.

Robert Moran, a shipworker, started things when he told a mournful tale of having been robbed while asleep on the grass at Madison Park. He said something sat on his face and picked his pockets; that he put up a fight and kicked "Crown Prince" across the lot; that the "Prince" threw mud at him in retaliation.

Luchesi and the festive monk were haled to the police station, and while Lawright was making Luchesi "come through" with $1.25 damages the monkey picked the pockets of Lieutenant Schroeder. However, they got back the lieutenant's pipe all right and let the monkey go—in fact, urged it.

SOLDIERS' LAND MEETING TOPIC

Problems of land settlement in relation to the ex-soldier, plans for the stimulation of public improvements during the readjustment period and the proposition of the bond issue of $40,000,000 for state road purposes will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the War Veterans of Alameda County at Chabot hall, Tenth and Jefferson streets, next Tuesday evening.

The War Veterans of Alameda County, which has a membership of more than 100 ex-service men, is a temporary organization designed to bring together the ex-soldiers honorably served in the armed forces of the United States and to care for their interests until such time as a suitable national organization has been conceived. No initiation fee is charged and no dues are collected, current expenses being paid by voluntary contributions. Any soldier or veteran with an honorable discharge is eligible for membership and such are invited to attend next Tuesday night's meeting.

Plans for an open meeting Tuesday evening, May 20, to which women friends of the members will be admitted, will be discussed at Tuesday night's meeting. Professor Ellwood Meade of the University of California, who is chairman of the land settlement board of the state of California, will deliver an illustrated address on the subject of the proposed and settlement scheme now being worked out in this state at the May 20 meeting. At the same meeting Jesse Robinson, member of the executive committee of the community placement bureau, will describe the work of that organization in finding employment for discharged soldiers, and a musical program will be arranged.

At next Tuesday night's meeting correspondence between Fred B. Melman, secretary of the War Veterans, and Colonel Roosevelt of the American Legion and Colonel Jones of Washington's office of the World War Veterans, will be read and discussed.

Lieutenant Bryan Returns to Home

After a year's service in the navy, Lieutenant Carlton Bryan, son of Mrs. Prentiss Colby Hale, is home again. While the young Stanford man has been serving in the armed forces of the nation's fighting men. As head of the Red Cross canteen service at the Ford Building in San Francisco Mrs. Hale has had one of the most important and arduous offices of any war worker about the bay. Many a mother and the she has seen the soldiers come in from abroad; today her own happiness has come.

Lieutenant Bryan, a Stanford student of 21 when he joined the navy made a brilliant record on his final trip, bringing in the transport West Galata alone, her captain being (B). He was graduated at the ensign's school at Peham Bay and shortly afterward made a lieutenant.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have been gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

When the Baby Needs a Laxative---

No one knows better than the ever-watchful mother—the natural doctor of the family in all the small ills—that when the baby is out of sorts it is usually due to indigestion or constipation.

It is always well, in any of its illnesses, to look for this cause. The diet may have to be changed, but before good can result from it, the bowels must be moved.

The mother has the choice of many medicines—cathartics, purgatives, bitter-waters, pills, physics, etc. But the little body doesn't need such harsh remedies for they wrench the system and do only temporary good, so often followed by an unpleasant reaction.

A better plan is to employ a mild, gentle laxative of which only a little is required. There is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin that thousands of mothers have used successfully for baby's constipation and its accompanying ills, such as belching, wind colic, restlessness, sleeplessness, etc.

The nursing mother will also find it ideal for herself, and it is especially important that she be free from constipation.

Syrup Pepsin is guaranteed to do as promised or the druggist will refund the money. Thousands of cautious families have it in the house, secure against the little ills.

GIBSON commends MORSE

Oakland, Cal., May 3, 1919.

Mr. F. F. Morse, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety, Oakland, California.

My dear Sir: I have been watching with much interest the result of the investigation of the graft charges brought against Dr. Jackson.

These charges, coming as they did on the eve of election, gave rise to slight suspicion, to say the least.

I want to congratulate you on your prompt action and report, and to say that as you have made a thorough and impartial investigation and find the charges unfounded in truth and in fact, it will be a relief to the minds of many who were in doubt.

No one is more willing than I am, to see that justice be given and if Jackson will stand by his published statements respecting gambling and law enforcement, and the other commissioners stand on the same platform, I am sure you will soon be able to clear up the situation.

You have my best wishes.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) W. E. GIBSON.

The Ladies' Home Journal

Over Two Million Copies of the May Number

The Government has lifted the restrictions on paper.

Now, I can give magazines of a size I never dreamed of before.

I used to think a 100-page Ladies' Home Journal a marvel; this month it is 184 pages.

Instead of 4 stories, we are giving 8.

Instead of 40 articles, we are giving 60 and 65 in each issue.

We gave our wonderful war pictures in full colors. Now, we give not only those but the pictures to our stories have started in full colors.

Almost double in size is the magazine; yet the price is the same: 15 cents.

Four Full-Color Peace Pictures

No finer souvenirs of the great Armistice Day can be imagined. Thousands will frame them. You get not one—but four—all for 15 cents, in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

"Honest: They Let Me Lie Here And Rot—That's What They're Doing!"

That's what our wounded boys in the hospitals write home. Is it true? We have the right to know the truth. And the truth is here: in an article you can believe. Every one of us who has a boy in the service who is wounded or may get sick should read this story. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

We Ought to Laugh More

That is what the radiant rollicking stories in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL make you do—you feel as if you have had a bath of laughter. Try them—and feel happy!

8 Short Stories and Serials

Each bright and happy, and just full of pictures; some of them in full color.

Stories That Will Make You Feel Young

The 1-Cent-A-Week Man

A man refused a job at the rate of 1 cent for the first week—2 cents the next—double each succeeding week. The employer then figured out how much he would have earned at the 52d week. No corporation could pay it: the United States Government couldn't. No one could. How much do you think it was? It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

A Man Shaves 20 Miles

During his lifetime. That is, if he is fair-skinned. If he is dark, he shaves even more. You don't believe it? It's all figured out for every man in a little table, as the razor goes over his face, in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Want, Really, to Laugh?

Then do read about the Professor who really didn't want to kill Germans, but killed and captured them on every hand. He just couldn't help it. The story is in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

A Whole Spring Dinner on One Plate

Why not save steps, plates, dish-washing? And the plates are made so that you can do it. Look, too, what you get on them and what to put on. Beautiful pictures show them to you in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Two Millions of One Magazine

Last month the public pushed THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL beyond the 1,900,000 mark. Yet over 20,000 persons were disappointed because they couldn't get the magazine!

This month we not only touch the wonderful 2-million mark but go over it—a figure that no monthly magazine has ever reached: an uncharted land!

The magazine this month reaches the high mark of 184 pages: 60 pages more than any May number in its history.

That means the printing of 368 millions of pages of one issue of one magazine—an edition so gigantic as to be almost unbelievable.

It required a month of all-nights and all-days to print it.

Does a Wife Vote Like Her Husband?

Thousands have said this would happen if women got the vote. Now, is it true? A woman has gotten at the facts, and she tells them, just as they are, in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

When Paderewski Closed His Piano

To become the Premier of Poland we saw one of the most dramatic and romantic pictures of the war. How did it come about? Why did he give up an income of $200,000 a year? What did he say himself just before he left America? Here is the complete story from information from his own stepson. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Now, Mother Really Would Not Behave!

So thought her big daughter and bigger son, and they didn't know what to do! For mother would be young—she would be happy; she would push back her yellow locks of hair, smile at her big girl and boy, and then she would do something else. One day out went every old dry dusty book in the house: the next day, old pictures would go and new ones would appear. New colors ran riot over the house. Old wall papers went and new cretonnes came. Then dinner parties began. And mother would go to the games. She would go and live in the college town where her children went. But the climax came when the daughter came home to find her mother swapping chocolate peppermints with her dignified Professor of English Literature. That was too much! The daughter was in despair. The boy merely said "Gee!"

It's just pure comedy in this story—deliciously fresh, rollicking with fun. You'll feel after reading it as if you had a bath of laughter.

Does Housework Prevent Childbirth?

A Man Says "Yes"

Here is a startling question. A great Englishman says that all but the glass-eyed will answer "Yes." So Zona Gale went into this throbbing question, investigated it, and her article fairly sparkles with interest. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

What are We! Women Going to Do?

So busy were women in war days. But the war is over. Now, what? Hundreds of women are asking this. One woman in Washington has the answer, for she sits at a great gateway of women's industries, and thousands of women write and talk to her. She has dug deep. Read her article that points the way in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

"I Tell This Intensely Personal Story Only for One Reason"

Says an American War Bride

"Because I may convince some girl or wife that her job is not through when her boy comes home from the war, but that it may just have begun"—And then she tells a story that words cannot describe. Superlatives cannot do it justice. It is the most thrilling American girl's story that has come out of the war: it will stay with every girl and woman who reads it. Only an American girl could have stood up under such an experience: only an American girl could tell it as she does. It is, of itself, worth your buying the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Uncle Sam's Bluebirds

Do you know who they are? The Army Nurses. It's a wonderful story about them—the finest-dressed girls in the world. The bravest, too. Read about them in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

How I Wrote The Battle Hymn of the Republic

Do you know? The story is very interesting. Not at all in the way you would think such a masterpiece might be written. Julia Ward Howe, in her own words, tells it in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The Two Men in Her Life

Many a girl has to make the choice that Lillie did. But it isn't easy. And other girls don't find it easy, either. Perhaps they can get help from the story of "Lillie of the Valley" in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

As a Tribute to Our Boys

What is the wise thing for a community to do? What is a good memorial? What is a wise tribute? A community house? A clock tower? A playground? A town library? Which? Here are 12 pictures of suitable ideas. They're in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Americanization is Everywhere in the Air

But what do they mean by it? We ought to know. It is already a question, and it's going to be a bigger question. The man who knows more about it than anyone else is Secretary of the Interior Lane. That's why THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL asked him to explain it. And he does in the May number. Read this brief article and you know.

Keeping Step With Your Husband—A Wife Must in These Days

How can she? What can she do so that her wifehood will not be a failure? Of course, it is possible—and easy. We asked a woman to find out, and she did. And she tells it in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

On What Week-Day Was I Born?

Thousands ask it. Or, on what week-day will such and such a day fall? There's the best perpetual calendar ever invented, given complete, so that you can cut it out, in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Why Her Women's Society Went to Pieces

Mrs. Elliott was president, and her "society" just wouldn't "go." She wanted to give it "all up." She couldn't get at the trouble. Then, all of a sudden, she did: a trouble that exists with a great many women's clubs and societies. There's a lot in this article for club women. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, and it reads like a story, swift and interesting.

Want to See Your Boy Come Home?

Wouldn't you like to go and see your boy land when he docks in New York? If you can't, let us take you there through clever Edna Lerner's pen. She tells you exactly how your boy feels, what he says and what he thinks about coming home. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, with striking pictures.

Can a Woman Run Her Home as a Man Runs His Business?

Most women say "No: It can't be done." But, is that so? At least, here is the man who has gone into this subject deeper than any other man in America. Read what he says. He shows how it can be done. It's in the May LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

WIFE 'SCARE' IS CAUSE OF TANGLE

An attempt to "scare" her husband, I. Simons, by telling him that he was under $55 bonds not to beat her any more, resulted in trouble for J. F. Rose, local attorney; trouble for Simons, and trouble for Police Judge, George Samuels, who had to conduct a lengthy investigation to get at the facts in the case.

Simons, who was arrested on complaints of neighbors that he was beating his wife, was released on his own recognizance by Judge Samuels on application of Rose. Shortly afterwards Simons appeared before the desk sergeant, asked for $55 bail money, that he said had been given Rose. Samuels started an investigation, as several complaints regarding bail irregularities in the police courts have recently been made to judges.

Rose said it was all a surprise to him; that Simons was penniless and that he took the case out of kindness. Finally the investigation veered around to Mrs. Simons.

Her husband had been released, she said, because she didn't want to prosecute. But she thought he ought to be "scared," so he wouldn't beat her again, hence she informed him that he was on $55 bond. Simons had an idea, and went to the police station to see if he could get the money, according to Rose.

"The thing was all brought about through the wife's story and a misunderstanding," said Judge Samuels. "I am satisfied on investigation that Rose acted only to help these people, and was the victim of Mrs. Simons' story."

Rose, according to the police judges, never asked for the release of any client on recognizance before.

ACROBAT-BURGLAR PAIR IS SOUGHT

Search is being made today by the police for two acrobatic burglars who, during last year in an attempt to rob a second-floor jewelry store in the Pantages Building, Twelfth and Franklin streets, escaped, one by sliding down a pipe on Franklin street, the other by dropping from an electric theater sign into the crowd.

The two burglars had entered the building, probably through a theater exit, and one had been stationed on the Franklin street side as a lookout. The other was attempting to force the door of the Brilliant Jewelry Company when interrupted by Dr. H. S. Mahon, a tenant. He fled to the offices of the Hitchcock Detective Agency, went through the window of that place, around the corner and dropped from the sign. The other man dropped down the pipe before the stage entrance of the theater. By the time the police were summoned both had disappeared.

County Employees Told to Buy Bonds

Every employee of the County Board of Supervisors is required by a resolution proposed by Chairman J. F. Mulins and unanimously agreed to at today's meeting to purchase Victory bonds to the limit of their capacity. The chairman called attention to the necessity of the county making its quota, and demanded that every county employee under the board's jurisdiction do all within his power to put the county over the top.

The board announced that thereafter the meetings will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock, and notified all persons having business with the board to be on hand at that hour.

The session today lasted only a few minutes and was concerned with incidental matters connected with the hospital.

BAV HOSPITAL UNIT DUE AT S.F. TOMORROW

COLTON, Calif., May 5.—A special train carrying 112 members of Base Hospital No. 35 and 202 men of Base Hospital No. 47 passed through here today and was scheduled to reach Los Angeles about noon.

Base Hospital No. 35 is composed largely of Los Angeles men, and after a short stop over in that city it is to proceed to Camp Kearny for demobilization.

Base Hospital No. 47, Major Bryant commanding, is composed largely of Central and Northern California men. It was to remain in Los Angeles until 6:30 o'clock and then enroute for San Francisco to be mustered out. Arrival in San Francisco is expected tomorrow noon.

RECEPTION IS PLANNED. Base Hospital No. 47 will arrive tomorrow at noon at the Third and Townsend streets station.

There are 134 enlisted men in the party in command of Major William A. Bryant. Included in the party are Captain Orrin S. Cook and Lieutenant Forest Winfree.

Arrangements for the welcome home of the unit are in charge of the San Francisco Chapter of the Red Cross and Base Hospital No. 47, auxiliary, of which Mrs. William T. Garrett is president.

The members of the unit will be met at the station by members of the auxiliary, Red Cross officials and a corps of canteen workers. Escorted by a band, they will be taken in decorated automobiles to the Ferry canteen, where they will be greeted by their kindfolk and given refreshments. Then the procession will be formed.

Former officers, nurses and enlisted men of the unit will be given a reunion dinner and dance at the Hotel St. Francis, Friday evening, by the auxiliary.

CASUALS ARRIVE AT MOLE. Arrival of 110 casualties from overseas attracted a large crowd to the Oakland mole yesterday afternoon and the men were welcomed by relatives and friends upon their arrival. Under command of Major D. B. Meyer of Pasadena, the contingent of fighters was on its way to the demobilization camp at the Presidio in San Francisco. The group comprised detachments from the 11th telegraph battalion, 19th engineers and field hospital No. 1.

Among the men who reached this city were representatives from nearly every fighting front. Ice cream, doughnuts, chewing gum and smokes were provided by the Red Cross canteen but at the mole and the men proceeded on their way across the bay in a happy mood.

INJURED BY BIG SHELL. Among those who returned were W. N. Sattley, a Los Angeles boy, who was injured by a high explosive shell. Captain J. A. Swearingen of San Francisco, Privates M. T. Maundrell and Louis Goolition of San Francisco, Milton H. Silverberg, a member of the 52d coast artillery corps, recently demobilized at the Presidio, Joe Toseant of San Rafael, Lieutenant Donald McClure of San Jose and Sergeants Fred D. Bailey, W. H. Waterman, Jack McDevitt, Corporal L. Z. Gordon, Wagner, Malcolm Maundrell and Privates W. H. McMahon, G. G. Troman, Walter Brown, Raymond Wysock and Robert Riley.

Another contingent to arrive yesterday included several wounded men from the 34th field artillery, the 52d coast artillery, the first artillery park, 35th machine gun battalion and the 12th ambulance company.

When the contingent of eighteen men arrived under the command of Captain J. A. Swearingen, they were given a rousing welcome.

WILL HAVE METAL JAW. W. N. Sattley of the 13th ambulance company, first division, a Los Angeles boy, came home yesterday with his face done up almost completely in bandages.

He had spent almost a year in a base hospital in France, where he underwent several operations. He was struck in the chest by a high-explosive shell, the fragments of the shell flew upward, blew his jaw to pieces and horribly disfigured his face.

Sattley is now at the Letterman general hospital, where expert army doctors will finish operating, present him with a metal jaw and otherwise tidy him up.

THE men or woman afflicted with backache, swollen muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains or other symptoms of kidney trouble is entitled to sympathy and should have help.

Nature gives early warning of kidney trouble by puffiness under eyes, spots before the eyes, dry mouth, biliousness, weakness and pale, waxy, dry skin.

It is unwise to neglect the slightest symptom of kidney trouble. Give the kidneys the help they are calling for.

tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys and help rid the body of poisons. With kidney and bladder properly functioning, appetite is restored, refreshing sleep is possible and health, strength and energy come as a natural result.

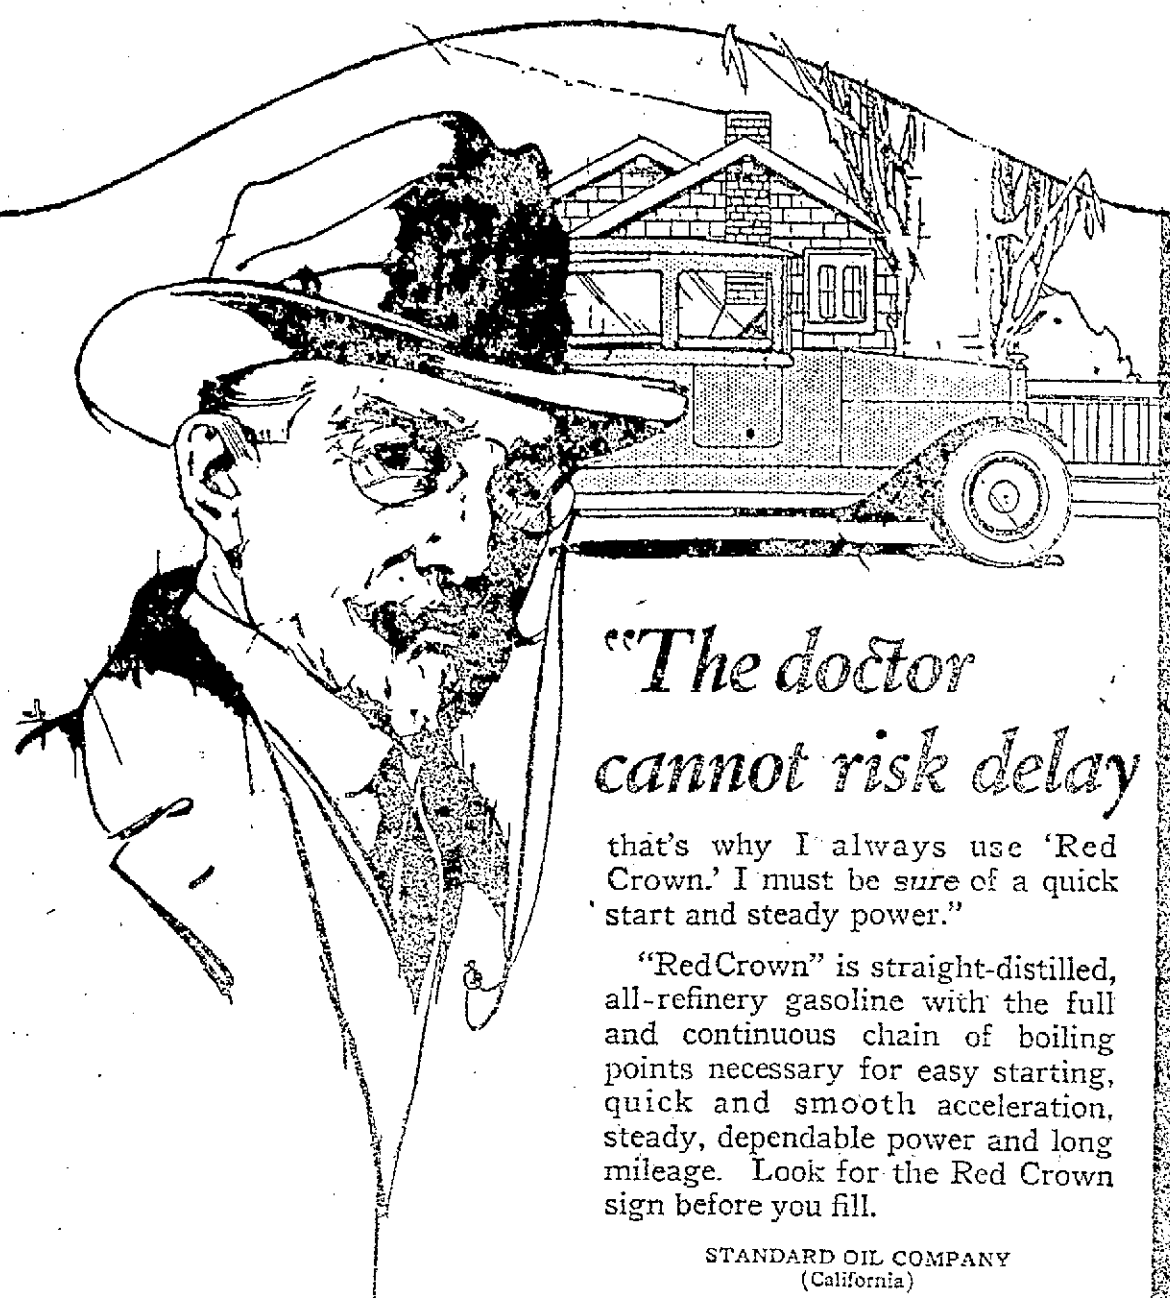

C. F. Reynolds, Elmira, N.Y., writes: "Three months ago I was stricken with kidney trouble. My back ached so severely I could not get up. We read of Foley Kidney Pills, so I sent for some and commenced taking them. In a few days I was out of bed and upon keeping the treatment up for some time I was able to go to work. Since then I have had no more back aches and no trouble with my kidneys."

JACKSON'S PROMISES TO MILLER

Bartering of appointive offices for campaign funds and the promise of votes is charged by William J. Baccus as a result of an alleged offer made to him by Harlan D. Miller, defeated candidate for commissioner and supporter of Dr. F. F. Jackson. Baccus says Miller offered to furnish him votes, and money for his campaign if he would promise to appoint him city engineer after election.

Miller claimed Dr. Jackson had offered to make such a proposition, Baccus claims. Following his refusal to consider such a proposition, Baccus claims Miller came out in support of Dr. Jackson and bought advertising space attacking him.

In his statement Baccus says:

"Dr. H. B. Meader of the State Board of Pharmacy, who supported Miller in the primaries, was asked by Miller to see me. Miller said Dr. Jackson would secure the votes of Commissioners F. F. Morse and Frederick Soderberg to put the appointment through if I turned down the proposition. Dr. Meader told him to accept the Jackson proposition as I would not consider such an illegal practice."

"In his proposition he offered to furnish financial backing for my campaign. The exact amount of money was not mentioned, but he said he controlled a large number of votes which he would swing to me in exchange for my promise."

"I told Dr. Meader, as a friend, that I did not approve of such practices and that, furthermore, I did not know Miller or his ability as an engineer, and did not care to be informed."

"In retaliation he has made a vicious attack upon me, making statements which are malicious and untrue. I have avoided mudslinging in this campaign and do not desire to commence now, but I must defend myself. This attack is evidently inspired by Dr. Jackson, whom, Miller said, he did not care to support. He changed his mind rather suddenly—it must have been the promise of the appointment."

"I have waged a clean campaign and all I desire is the votes of clean, honest citizens, ones who have the interests of Oakland at heart. I will make no promises to any faction or anyone desiring appointment to a public office."

"As for the charge that I am being supported by the saloon interests, I know nothing of such support. I have asked no more from them than from the voters in general—as all elements go to make up the voting population, I expect to secure votes representative of all classes."

Oh! My Face

People who have impure or impoverished blood should be careful to take only a temperance remedy made of wild roots and herbs such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is and has been for nearly 50 years. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulation begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the eliminative organs.

In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear.

Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to-day at any medicine dealers, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial package to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Occasionally one should "clean house" with castor oil or tiny pills made up of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, first put up by Dr. Pierce and now sold by almost all druggists in this country as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Always convenient to take.

would not be approved. It would be a continuation of that reckless expenditure, often deserving condemnation as criminal waste, of the federal revenues.

MORAL VALUE OF HUN SHIPS.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is reported by cable to have expressed himself in favor of sinking the captured German warships. He gives as a reason for adopting a suggestion that appeals to many thoughtful persons as fantastic the theory that such disposal of the vanquished Hun fleet would be a great moral lesson to the world.

If there is any justification at all for sinking these war craft it is not to be based on moral grounds. There may be plausible technical and economic reasons for such a procedure. The naval experts of Ally countries may disapprove of their character of construction and they may be too costly in operation. But the greatest moral lesson would be given through keeping the captured vessels intact as warships.

The only nations and peoples that are obviously in need of moral lessons are Germany and her allies. They will need moral guidance for some time to come. Display in foreign ports of the surrendered ships would be a perpetual warning of the enterprise that failed and the craven cowardice of the personnel of the German navy, the power of which Germany boasted for twenty years, but which, when the test came, gave up without a fight. These ships are a memento of an unparalleled moral failure of a nation and a military force. They should be preserved.

During the war cotton growers were very touchy on the matter of government interference with their staple. Wool could be regulated and commandeered, and it was all right; but as soon as there were signs of federal action with regard to cotton, instant opposition was manifest, which was always effective; nothing was ever done with or to cotton. Now, however, it is different. An association of growers proposes to maintain prices by arbitrarily limiting the crop. But they are not certain of the legality of such proceeding, and have solicited an opinion from the United States Attorney General on the subject. The opinion was sought by Secretary Houston in behalf of the growers, and the Attorney General declined to express himself on the subject, "since the question did not directly involve any administrative matters within the jurisdiction of the Department of Agriculture." Which would indicate that something was being attempted in behalf of the Southern cotton grower through official channels that was not official. Generally, the South has been coddled by this administration. The new Attorney General must have a different point of view from others who have been shaping administrative policies.

The conviction and sentencing of Frank A. Brush, cashier of a national bank at Santa Rosa, for embezzling more than a million dollars, is likely to cause thought as to supervision that failed to detect a peculation that went on for twelve years. It may be true that no ingenuity or oversight will surely restrain the crook; but it is likely to be felt that in twelve years, with frequent examinations and inspections, some inkling that all was not right should have been sensed. Though the looted institution was a national bank, State oversight was also involved. Linked and dragged down with it was a savings bank that had been regularly examined by State authorities. So that there were two safeguards provided by law which failed utterly. Sufficient travail over bank examinations, especially State bank examinations, characterized the oversight in recent years to cause a feeling that such an outcome was impossible.

We were reminded without being impressed of the fact that Thursday was the twenty-first anniversary of the battle of Manila. So much that transpired that event has since transpired that it is dwarfed into minor importance. Yet it is interesting to remember the thrill that went through the country when the news arrived. That our navy, at that time more or less tattered, should achieve such a glorious victory without the loss of a man was the very romance of war. Dewey at Manila seemed to occupy a pedestal alongside Nelson at Trafalgar. Has much thought been given to the decline of Dewey as a naval hero? Farragut, Perry, not to mention John Paul Jones and the earlier sea fighters, have never lost their lustre; but Dewey has dropped into the limbo of half-forgotten upholders of the flag on the raging main, though through his achievement a great realm was won. Do we fully realize why this is?

New York is indulging in Sunday baseball, beginning today. In the West no restriction has been imposed by most States as to the day or the hour when play is called. New York probably did not go to the length of having the law put on the unofficial game, played in the vacant lot by the scratch nine; but until now it refused to countenance official games in regulation parks, to witness which admission was charged. Now such games are sanctioned by ordinance. But see how the limitation has shifted. Formerly the game was inhibited on moral grounds. Now it is permitted and regulated, but the regulation concerns the pocket instead of the conscience. A limit has been placed on the price of admission. Advantage cannot be taken of unusual occasions to boost the price of admission.

NOTES and COMMENT

The rush of tourists may result in another era of construction of resort hotels in picturesque nooks and bosky dells, of which there are many in California. Forty years ago there was such an orgy, but never the prospect of guests that now exists.

Latest advices are to the effect that the Italians are much softened from their belligerent attitude assumed immediately after their demands as to Fiume were refused. Perhaps it is safe to attribute this to some level heads who at once saw the advisability of not getting so far on the tangent that they couldn't get back.

Pointexter keeps on criticising the things that are doing. Some day things may be done the way he has advised, at one time or another, and then he will be in a fix, indeed.

A German peace delegate ridicules the league pact. Perhaps he is proceeding on the principle of the man who was tossed over a fence by a bull and had his laugh first. Whatever may be the pact agreed to by the allies, Germany will have to accept them; and whatever of advantage expression her representatives make is likely to be more timely before than after.

Immigration Commissioner Caminetti doesn't seem to have intimate knowledge of what is going on in California in rounding up undesirable aliens. He ought to be informed about it. The country is full of such characters. How they get here it might be important to ascertain, but that they are here is certain, and that they should be rounded up and sent hence is without doubt.

The importation of luxuries into northern Russia is prohibited, according to a news item. Luxuries are always relative things. It would be of interest to know just what is meant in this inhibition. It was generally supposed that vital necessities were scarcely to be had there, let alone cologne water and such things.

The Red Bluff News is confirming "Patty Arbuckle has purchased the Vernon baseball team. This confirms our suspicion that the Vernon ball team is a joke."

Story of a Georgian who had sixty cousins in the army. And of good American stock. It is unusual, except in Chinese circles, to have so many relatives of that degree of consanguinity.

Diogenes had a long and fruitless quest for an honest man. I had searched for an honest woman he might have had better luck. At least that idea is suggested by the action of the Oakland woman who found a tourist's purse, bank book and everything, and turned it over to the San Francisco police, who are free with encomiums in connection therewith.

A summary of the enactments of the late legislature informs us that it achieved the vastly important statute requiring that mattresses be taken to the laundry for inspection. It may be that we have been wrong in contending that the legislature failed to enact important legislation.

Napoleon cut a sorry figure as compared with that of a San Diegoan, according to the Union: "Napoleon was said to be a striking figure on a horse, but compared to our own Nelson Snyder, grand marshal of the Old Fellows' parade last Saturday, poor old Napoleon was a little more than an insignificant spectacle. Marshal Snyder straddled that nag with grace and daring that would make Tom Mix and Doug Fairbanks look like a couple of sheep herders."

Circus item from the Red Bluff News: "Compters declares that Burleson must walk the plank. Which will be simple compared to his present job of walking slack wires."

Mayor Woodman of Los Angeles has been acquitted and is up for reelection. The jury was out five hours and twenty-five minutes, which did not make the acquittal absolutely spontaneous; but they have had experience in re-electing mayors under such circumstances and Woodman need not fear.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

Porterville has come through without a single casualty among its war contingent. It boasts a population of 5000 and not one of its men called into the fighting was killed or even seriously injured and only three were victims of the influenza. At the same time Porterville was quite as much in the fighting as men from other valley cities—Stanford Sentinel.

After having once authorized the organization of twelve companies of infantry and twelve of coast artillery as units of the national guard, and thereafter cancelling the order, the war department has again notified Adjutant General Borree that he may proceed with the twelve companies of infantry. Nothing is said about the artillery, but after July 1, when the new federal appropriation becomes available, the state will be expected to provide a quota of 5000 men, including three regiments of infantry, the others being assigned to coast artillery, signal corps, engineering corps, etc., as the peace basis of the national guard—Sacramento Union.

Tractor week in Sacramento was the greatest event of the kind ever held in California. Modern agricultural machinery will be displayed in larger aggregation and in more complete detail than ever before, for California is the birthplace of the tractor, and the progressive inventors and manufacturers of this western state hold the leadership in many other lines—Sacramento Union.

Munich--Where Reds and Berliners Clash

Munich, scene of heavy fighting between the Red Guard and the German government troops, is described in the following bulletin from the National Geographic Society:

"Munich, widely heralded before the war as a combination German Oxford and Paris, owes much of its magnificence in building to the extravagant vagaries of the mad King Louis II and his famous English garden to a native of Massachusetts.

"Before the war Munich was larger than Cleveland and smaller than Boston, the third German city in size, and capital of Bavaria, perhaps the least Prussian district of Germany. Indeed an incidental reason for the Franco-Prussian war was Bismarck's shrewd calculation that Bavaria could thus be cemented to the empire.

"Munich, once in Germany propaganda seems to have been to soft pedal the inevitable 'Verbots' of most German cities and to advertise instead an extreme cordiality which, even as described by friendly visitors, suggests an uncomfortable degree of familiarity. If having a street car conductor pass his snuff box, taking it for granted that all guests at beer halls need no further introductions, mingling with street crowds during 'Karneval' when a masked woman tacitly extends the supposed privilege of the mistletoe to practically all are masked—or being expected to buy beer for all new-made friends if you strike a bargain at the 'rag fair,' makes you feel at home, by all means proper for Munich was the place to visit.

"To the French the gusto of Munich hospitality was oppressive, to the Italians—accustomed to light-some carnal scenes—the Munich brands of hilarity and beer were somewhat sudden. Suspicion that beer, at least that of Munich, makes for sobriety is somewhat disarmed by the extensive nomenclature the Munich natives seem to have evolved for all stages of inebriety.

"Louis (or Ludwig) I was the Macdonald of Munich. A dilettante, perhaps in politics, he was an ardent, if not wholly discriminate, art patron. Before his adventures with Lola Montez led to his abdication, he had laid the foundations of the university and galleries. Munich beer and comic papers of the 'Jugend' type added attractions for the Teutonic student, artist and Bohemian.

"One Munich gallery exhibited such works as Titian's 'Christ Crowned With Thorns,' Rembrandt's 'The Descent from the Cross' and Raphael's 'Macdonald,' and contained works of Rubens, Van Dyck, Holbein the elder, Perugino, Botticelli and Fra Filippo Lippi, from which it will be seen that Louis did not hesitate to acquire the masterpieces of other nations.

"Louis II saw Bavaria gradually absorbed in the empire, but, before madness drove him to suicide, he furthered the art development begun by his grandfather. His reign was notable for his encouragement of Wagner's development of the music drama, and to his royal generosity, which would add more to his fame had it not been for the oppressive taxation it imposed and its later excesses were due the bayreuth productions, epochal in the history of music.

"To those who hold Kaiser Wilhelm mad, it would be interesting to compare the later monarch's eccentricities with the wild night rides, incognito travels, the extravagant castle building and other symptoms of megalomania in Louis II. In the final stages of the latter's insanity he developed a mania for suicide, and ordered lavish theatrical productions at Munich he alone attended.

"With the history of Munich the name Louis is inseparable. It was Louis the Severe who, in the thirteenth century gave the city a start by living there, and Emperor Louis, the Bavarian, next in succession, who built the first city wall. The city owes its beginning to Duke Henry the Lion, who established a mint there in 1158 and built a bridge across the Isar so he might levy toll on the salt from springs of Reichenhall and neighboring villages. The city occupies the site of the ancient monastery Tegernsee, hence its name (munichen, the monk).

"Resisting the Reformation, the Munichers cling not only to ancient Christian beliefs but to many pagan rites. Witchery and black art still are accepted. Tuesday is called Irtag, for the war god, Arge, and Thursday is Phruztag, from Greek for the fifth day. From the Greek heathen custom is retained the observance of Twelfth Night, when evil spirits are driven from homes by burning herbs on live coals and writing the mystic sign of the 'Three Wise Men' on every door with sacred chalk. Every seven years is the carnival known as the Coopers' Dance, which had its origin during a plague four centuries ago when the guild of Coopers arranged a spectacle to hearten the populace.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO.

San Leandro has the greatest number of children to the father and mother than any other school district in the United States, according to United States census reports; 1020 children is the total, 767 of whom are over 5 years.

Teachers' salaries are "fair," according to an open discussion, in which stenographers, dressmakers and saleswomen take part, while educators and parents protest a reduction of remuneration, but insist on higher standards.

Early vegetables in the Niles district suffer damage from light frosts.

VICTORY DAY IS MORE THAN MERE FESTIVAL—IT'S A PLEA TO OAKLAND TO PAY ITS JUST DEBTS

CARNIVAL AT AUDITORIUM BIG FEATURE

Victory is the watchword for the 24 hours today ending at midnight. Oakland arose with the thought of Victory and when Oakland seeks its pillow tonight it will be to the triumphant notes of Victory. This is Victory Day in Oakland. The city has donned its festive attire, has put away its business and cares, and made its community celebration of the officially proclaimed holiday. Tonight the big patriotic carnival will reach its climax, when in the Municipal Auditorium the people meet to witness, to look upon some of the most distinguished leading men and women in the movie world, to listen to eloquent orators and to learn to translate their emotions into a victory which shall be lasting through the purchase of Victory Bonds.

PERHAPS LAST AIR PAGEANT.
Dating aviators from Mather Field, thrilled with the opportunity of showing to the people of Oakland what an aviator means in Uncle Sam's service, arrived in the city this morning to perform at 2 o'clock some of the most daring stunts of the clouds, at what will probably be one of the last great aerial pageants in California. For with Victory assured, the air men will go back to their plows and building, and pageants of the skies will not be possible.

With Lake Merritt as the center of the whole dramatic episode, the people got a real emotion from the flying ships which dipped and dived and evorted in real army and battle fashion. Piloted by Captain Thomas S. Voss, Captain N. P. Hopkins, Lieutenant Frank D. Hackett, Lieutenant Earl E. Neugeb and Master Electrician Frank McKee, a squadron of seven planes offered realistic aerial demonstrations which gave the throngs watching a new interpretation of what Victory means. With bursting bombs, with waving flags, with shouts and cheers, the bird men were welcomed to Oakland. Higher and higher waxed the excitement of the wondering crowds whose feet stay on terra firma until the last plane had winged its way with its splendid curve far out of sight on its way back to the Mather field.

BIG CELEBRATION TONIGHT.
All the citizens of Oakland will celebrate again tonight. It will be a sort of springtime. Thanksgiving festival which they will hold in the Municipal Auditorium, sending up a pean of joy because the cannon and the guns have ceased to roar and the boys by shipload and trainload are coming home. With bands and songs and cheers, with speechmaking by movie stars and local orators, the throngs who have not already paid their offering to Victory will prove that Oakland rejoices again by keeping her full quota of the obligation which has been placed upon her in payment of the great war debt. Soldiers and sailors marching together in the Victory march will parade the downtown streets tonight. They will assemble at the City Hall at 7 o'clock, starting in time to reach the Auditorium for a great demonstration before the regular program is commenced. All service

Postmaster Urges Speed in Drive
Postmaster Joseph J. Rosenberg said this morning that from now until the end of the Victory Loan drive he would devote his entire time and attention to helping other volunteers put Oakland "over the top." He says that every Oaklander should realize the importance to the nation of making the drive a success. He says that he feels confident that this city and county will yet make a highly creditable showing if the people are once fully impressed with the urgent need of their hearty cooperation.

SIX COUNTIES OF DISTRICT OVER THE TOP

Although there is yet 50 per cent of the quota to be raised, Northern California Victory loan officials and workers are entering the final week today confident that this portion of the state will prove its patriotism. "The campaign is just reaching its full momentum," said Carey S. Hill, campaign manager, this morning. "A number of the bigger counties have been slow in starting, but today find all working with splendid energy."

SIX COUNTIES OVER TOP.
"Every chairman in the district is certain that his county will do its part and I am confident that the unselfish determination and reliability of the sales forces will put Northern California over the line." The start of the last week found six counties with their quotas entirely subscribed. One of these, Plumas, had a standing of 156 per cent. Nine have better than 50 per cent to their credit and 16 others are standing right near the 50 per cent mark.

43 PER CENT IN ALAMEDA.
The most pleasing advances recorded during the second week were the remarkable rise of Kern county, which went over the top in one day's work; Solano, which topped the 100 per cent figure after a fast moving campaign; the climb of Humboldt, which expects to go over within the next two days, and the substantial gains of Alameda, which is the biggest of the counties listed as a part of the Northern California district. Alameda county has now raised $5,841,960, 43 per cent of its total. Stanislaus and Contra Costa counties were the two latest to top the 50 per cent mark. E. L. Sherman, chairman in the former county, reported this morning that he had 55 per cent raised. Standings of the leading Northern California counties today are as follows: Plumas, 156 per cent; Kern, 108 per cent; Solano, 107 per cent; Triun-

SERVICE MEN ARE ASKED TO JOIN IN VICTORY PARADE

All Oakland soldiers and sailors, whether mustered out or not, are requested to mobilize at 7 p. m. at the city hall, in uniform, to participate in the Victory day parade to the Auditorium. Mothers of Oakland soldiers and sailors are invited to apply at Victory Loan headquarters, city hall, for tickets to the Auditorium special section at the Victory day exercises. A special place of honor is being reserved for the mothers of soldiers.

HALF-HOLIDAY TO AID LOAN DRIVE

A half holiday was declared this afternoon by the city council, in honor of Victory Day, at the request of the Victory Loan committee. The resolution was passed at the request of Commissioner Fred Soderberg to permit laborers on a per diem basis to work if they so desired, Soderberg saying that men on per diem pay had objected to the numerous holidays that had lately cut down their income. Improvement resolutions were adopted for Marmon avenue, west of Sixty-seventh street, Hagaman avenue, Laguna street and other annexed district thoroughfares. A request was filed by the Grand Army and other veterans for $300 for this year's memorial day services. This was referred to the finance committee.

Houses Are Swept Away by Cloudburst

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 5.—A cloudburst has inundated a large area near Salem, Crawford county, according to advices received here today. Houses were washed away and it is feared lives were lost. Houses and trees on the tract are preventing train traffic to Salem. It is 105 per cent; Madera, 101 per cent; Modoc, 100 per cent; Humboldt, 95 per cent; Napa, 85 per cent; El Dorado, 76 per cent; Kings, 75 per cent; Santa Cruz, 61 per cent; Tehama, 60 per cent; Del Norte, 56 per cent; Stanislaus, 55 per cent; Tulare, 53 per cent.

BORREE SEES RED FLAG IF JOBS DENIED

"Employment Sunday" was observed by the War Camp Community Service by a singing festival in the Municipal Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

Carrie Jacobs Bond, composer of "A Perfect Day" and many other well-known songs, and Adjutant General J. J. Borree addressed the gathering on the necessity of finding employment for returned soldiers and supporting to the limit the Victory loan. That Oakland is in a healthy condition regarding employment was shown by Borree in the statement that there are at the present time in Oakland 235 more positions open for soldiers than there are soldiers to fill them. Borree said in part: "America was unprepared for war and now she is unprepared for peace. We have 4,400,000 soldiers in our army, and if we are to avoid the chaos of Europe, the peril of the red flag, it is up to us as individuals to get back to work. Every returning soldier with a position. In Oakland, I am happy to say, that at the present time there are 250 more positions open for soldiers than we have soldiers to fill them. It is a matter of regret that citizens should have to be 'coaxed to buy bonds' and urged that the Victory bonds be purchased to the utmost limit in order that it should never be said that the United States was a 'nation of ingrates'."

Coal From Orient Is Sent to Alaska

With the first cargo of coal ever shipped from that district, the motor-schooner Ching Wang Too has left the port of Ching Wang Too for the canneries on Bristol Bay, Alaska. The coal now supplied to the Alaska canneries is sent from the Oakland harbor and is mined in Utah.

George White at Columbia

George White added another feature to his cap last evening when he presented his newest body-poke of music, "The House of a Thousand Mirrors," at the Columbia. He is a popular partner, Solly Carter, assisted by Francis Young, Louis Vail, Ira Roberts and Norma Leslie. The offering is offered during the Winter Garden series at the Columbia and gives promise of playing to capacity houses throughout the week.

The comedy, offered by White and Carter, is a rapid fire sort, entirely clean and wholesome and depending on merit not success for success. The comedy is far above the average and the principals and the chorus received numerous handclaps for their good work.

That White has struck a popular note in his choice of entertainment for the patrons of the Columbia is evidenced by the immense throngs attending the performance. The chorus numbers are well staged, and the support is given by White and Carter is above reproach.

MRS. STANLEY KING, who was a member of receiving party at the tea given by the Misses Ruth and Rachael Genung, Saturday afternoon.

Helen and Madeline Sanford are to entertain at tea at their home in Alameda in honor of Mrs. Edwin Griswold, who was Miss Mildred Griswold, and Miss Louise Gimbal, fiancée of Warren Sanford, who is now in France. A large number of the friends of the hostess have been bidden.

Baker Players
Are Secured
For Orpheum

Announcement was made today that Harry E. Cornell, manager of the Oakland Orpheum, has taken over the lease for the theater during the summer months, and has arranged, after a visit to the north, to present here during the vaudeville vacation the Baker Players, noted stock organization, in a series of comedies.

The vaudeville attractions will be withdrawn for six weeks, beginning Sunday matinee, June 1, for the new company. The Baker Players, organized in 1898, is unique among theatrical companies in that all its members are stars in their own right. The founder of the company, who is mayor of the city of Portland, required that an actor have made his mark before being chosen for any part in the company.

Cornell says that announcements of the new vaudeville attractions will be forthcoming in the next few days.

MARGUERITE CLARK
KINEMA ATTRACTION

Marguerite Clark and three women-haters make a quadruple move entering the city from the usual triangle in "That Man and That Girl," the Kine-ma this week.

The actress, away from her wedding, invades the stage, the three women-haters, where the three sufferings from unfortunate affairs of the heart have come to a head in the course of the film play. She soon captivates them in this delightful comedy.

Orpheum, vaudeville of the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, plays at the opening of the picture as well as several numbers which occur in the course of the film play. He is well known in musical circles in New York.

Charles S. Sennett comedy, all week at the Kine-ma. The latest News Reel comedy, "The Man Who Knew," Burton Holmes Travelogue are on the program.

PANTAGES BILL HAS ATTRACTIVE FLAVOR. The Kine-ma and Company, Trovato, violinist, and the Four Bards did not steal the show from the new attraction, Dyer at the opening show at Pantages this week.

The Kine-ma is a comedian. He plays a part of a chaperone at a bachelor's farewell party. He is the life of the party and a source of merriment. He is a good fellow. Del W. Sheppard and four girls give him excellent support.

Trovato impudently tosses off good music and jazz from his violin which he holds between his knees. Then he sings and dances to a waltz. He is a good fellow. Del W. Sheppard and four girls give him excellent support.

The Four Bards stand alone as hand-to-hand balancers. They closed the show, as the stage settings and the attractiveness of the act. Mabel Valer is an up-to-the-minute Sils Hopkins in a rapid fire sort. She spreads good fun in which she is aided and abetted by Edde Dyer.

Eastbay churches
Join Plan to Aid Ex-Fighters

The churches of the Eastbay district joined with the religious organizations of the city in the campaign to place every discharged soldier in a good job. Ministers, in their announcements, bulletins and sermons, urged the members of their congregations to co-operate with the United States employment service and other agencies prevailing upon employers to register their needs for help with the bureau for returning soldiers and sailors.

An appeal to a call from the National Catholic War Council, the moral obligation of the nation to place in employment every discharged soldier, was presented in the Catholic churches of the city.

At St. Mary's church Rev. Edward P. Dempsey preached the sermon. He asked the men who sacrificed positions and family ties to engage in the war for freedom to give the privilege to which they were entitled.

UNION MEETING. In the afternoon a fine meeting was held in observance of Employment Sunday at the Civic Auditorium, where speakers made by Captain General J. J. Borree, Rev. Charles S. Price and Charles Wakefield Cadman.

The Y. M. C. A. Naval Training Station Band rendered several selections, and there were 200 voices in the War Camp Community chorus.

The California Federation of Music Clubs assisted in the program. A fifty-piece orchestra led by Glenn Woods rendered four selections. His charged rendered four employers were then introduced with the result that two days the matches will be between Del Monte and San Mateo, old rivals.

At Del Monte this week are Mrs. W. M. Hall of this city and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miles of Walnut Creek, who are registered at the Del Monte Hotel.

An interesting party from Seattle includes Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterhouse and their daughters, the Misses Mariel and Mary Waterhouse, who are accompanied by Miss C. Lindsay. The young girls are often seen riding along the scenic border paths, being enthusiastic devotees of horseback riding.

A feature of the polo matches at Del Monte May 10 and 11 is the U. S. Flying Circus. During these two days the matches will be between Del Monte and San Mateo, old rivals.

OAKLAND PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Orpheum Bill
Offers Fine
Entertainment

Sentiment, mystery, music and fun mingle in the entertainment offered by the Orpheum patrons this week. The show is an improvement over last week, and is one of the best of the recent offerings.

Sentiment and music are the main features of the program. "The story tells of the return of the big man from the prison old home, now occupied by the sweetheart of his youth, whom, by reason of misunderstanding, he did not marry. They bridge the years and the story ends happily."

"Eyes of Youth" Solves Old
Problem at Fulton Theater

NANA BRYANT, who is at the Fulton in Marjorie Rambeau's play, "Eyes of Youth."

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH. To you today I propose a profound problem: If a nice young girl should not sacrifice herself to duty or abandon her destiny to ambition or barter her soul to a man, what should she do? You wish to know the answer? Well, you wish to know the answer to the problem, of course, you little blue-eyed accumulation of sentiment! She should wed the man she loves. So you, too, you little blue-eyed accumulation of sentiment, you wish to know the answer to this deep, deep question.

Every woman knows it! Nonsense! It is precisely what every woman does not know until she has done a deal of thinking about it and thought wrong two or three times. If every woman knew it there would be no mystery to the scene, no glamour before the bar only half a century ago, when a young man and a young woman, a school, a dressing room with revolver and cigar, a rooming house, a go at that point, old Richard, seventh commandment, a crystal sphere and a nice little Yogi in white before she found it out.

That gives a view in cross-section of the infinite variety with which Messrs. Danforth and Guernon have endowed the problem. If a nice young girl should not sacrifice herself to duty or abandon her destiny to ambition or barter her soul to a man, what should she do? You wish to know the answer? Well, you wish to know the answer to the problem, of course, you little blue-eyed accumulation of sentiment! She should wed the man she loves. Kolb and Dill
Delight in
"As You Were"

Back again in their war-time vehicle which is famous as one of the few attempts of artists of the stage to tell its own peace-time story, Kolb and Dill last night took the Fulton Playhouse by storm in their return for the second week of their musical comedy, "As You Were."

Their three-act, farce comedy, drawn its plot from the troubles of two young German-Americans, who came to this country when the Civil war broke out, the two youths, who need not say are Kolb and Dill, volunteer their services in happy attempt to live down the troubles of their fathers in their nationality. With the cold, quick-acting movement of all war time military procedure, the two youths are put into a detention camp, suspected of an attempt to poison the American army of the North.

BLIND MAN'S HEARING MAY FIND SLAYER

Now serving a two-year term for burglary in San Quentin prison is a man who faces the gallows as the murderer of Reuben Fogel, aged broker of Los Angeles, who was strangled to death last October. A blind man's delicate sense of hearing developed from long lack of the faculty of seeing, made first disclosures which set operatives of the Los Angeles district attorney's office on the trail that is expected to solve the mystery.

While the identity of the burglar who is thus brought within the shadow of the gallows is being closely guarded, it is admitted that he was a close "pal" of Dale Jones, bandit, who, with his common law wife, was shot and killed after they had killed Deputy Sheriff Van Fleet of Los Angeles.

The convict will be rearrested on his release from San Quentin and charged with the murder of the broker. In the meantime, Los Angeles police are rounding out details in the chain of evidence already established.

MYSTERIOUS PHONE CALL.
Fogel was murdered after he had been lured to a vacant house by a mysterious telephone call from some one who wished to sell Liberty bonds. Before leaving the office of A. L. Jamison, stock broker, associated with Fogel, loaned him $500 with which to purchase the bonds. The money was missing when the body was found.

Shortly after the murder J. F. Boyd, a blind man, who worked in the office with Fogel and Jamison, was at Los Angeles police headquarters offering his help to them. At this time the suspect in question was brought into the headquarters in connection with the burglary which sent him to San Quentin.

The blind man, hearing the voice, recognized it immediately, say detectives, as the voice of the man who had lured Fogel to the scene of his death. During the past week new developments have proved the man's guilt in the murder, it is said.

RAISED MONEY SUDDENLY.
The suspect robbed the home of D. C. Page in South Pasadena shortly before the murder, says Detective

Pastor's Gallantry
Causes Auto Crash;
Women Injured

ALBANY, May 5.—Gallantry on the part of Rev. H. W. Warner, pastor of the Pilgrim Advent Christian Church of Oakland, nearly caused a serious accident Saturday evening at San Pablo and Portland avenues.

Rev. Warner was driving three of his women parishioners out San Pablo avenue to make a sick call on a member of his congregation. One of the women complained of being cold and the clergyman reached to hand her a robe. As he did so he lost control of his car and his machine crashed into an automobile owned by J. C. Brown, 731 Evelyn avenue, Albany, which had been left standing at the corner.

Flying glass from the two machines severely cut two of the women passengers, Mrs. J. Twombly sustaining a gash on the back of her head. Mrs. L. Shallenberg and Mrs. H. Ferrier were slightly injured, while Rev. Warner escaped unhurt. The women refused to be taken to the hospital and were conveyed to their homes, where they received medical care.

Rev. Warner resides at 1825 Berkeley way, Berkeley, while the women live in Oakland. Mrs. Twombly is a deaconess in the church of which Rev. Warner is pastor.

Green of the Los Angeles police, and here came into possession of the $500 in bonds which he was to sell to the broker, Fogel. About this time the suspect took a robe and borrowed $20 from his landlady during his stay there. The money became due the day before the murder. The suspect said he was broke. Three days later, he had plenty of money and paid her the $20.

7 OFFICIALS
TO BE CHOSEN FOR OAKLAND

All preparations were completed today by Deputy City Clerk Frank C. Merritt for tomorrow's general municipal election. Supplies were distributed to all tents of Oakland's 231 precincts today, the old offices of the Draft Board No. 2 in the city hall being used as the distributing point.

The polls will open tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock, to remain open until 7 in the evening.

The ballot for the election tomorrow will be far easier for election officers to handle than that of the primary voting, only two candidates for each office being contained on the ballot. Since John L. Davies was re-elected mayor at the primaries, the officers to be elected will be auditor, two commissioners and four school directors, two for unexpired terms.

Besides these candidates two ordinances, one an old saloon regulation, the other the two platoon system for firemen, will be voted on.

DAVIES'S STATEMENT.
Mayor Davies today issued the following statement in connection with tomorrow's election:

"To the voters of Oakland: Tomorrow you will be called upon to select the man who must work with me for the next four years. I appreciate your support of me, but I am to do constructive work for the proper advancement of the city I must have an administration which will work harmoniously with me. With this end in view I now call upon you to cast aside all personal and tangent issues and give me four years of good progressive work with men for whom I will be responsible. I can do what you want me to do if you elect the following men, who have pledged themselves to work with me.

"For auditor, Harry G. Williams. "Commissioner No. 1, W. H. Edwards. "Commissioner No. 2, William J. Baucus.

"It is results that you want. You cannot honestly hold me responsible if I must fight my way single-handed in a city council designed to hinder my administration. "Commissioner Edwards will work with me.

METAL TRADE CONFERENCE OPENED HERE

Questions of vital importance to metal trades workers on the Pacific coast were discussed at a specially called conference of the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council, which was begun at the Labor Temple, Eleventh and Washington streets, today.

The recent Washington conference extending the Macy award from April 1 to October 1, a plan to establish a Pacific coast organization to handle future labor disputes, and a number of other matters of minor importance to metal workers were discussed at today's conference.

General dissatisfaction with the results of the Washington conference were expressed in the reports of delegates to that gathering, the delegates being expressed that it did not extend the desired concessions to the workers.

Approximately 50,000 men are represented in the conference, metal workers' unions from San Diego to Vancouver, British Columbia, having sent delegates.

The Pacific coast executive council of the Boilermakers' Union, which has been in session here during the past three weeks, adjourned Saturday. No announcements of the decisions of the council regarding a number of matters discussed have been made. Most of the delegates to this conference are also members of the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council, which ended its convention this morning.

With me and in fact would never have done otherwise had it not been for the scheming of Commissioner Jackson, who is alone responsible for the past four years of wrangling. With Commissioner Jackson's influence eliminated from the city council there would be no more charges and expenses with jury investigations, all of which tend to injure the reputation of the city of Oakland more than the political aspirations of any one man or set of men.

"I also appeal for the election of William J. Baucus, who is opposed by Jackson. In this fight a great many last-hour stunts have been resorted to and Dr. Jackson has sought to create sympathy for himself by telling of all the big gamblers and bad men that are opposed to him. Dr. Jackson is in no position to make such an appeal. In the Jackson record he was said by the gamblers of Oakland, who made up his campaign fund to enormous proportions. The grand jury later reported that vice under Jackson's management of the police department was rampant, and granting that Jackson was ignorant of it, then he was so out of touch with his duty that he was unfit for public service. Later on the city council, in the face of threats from the government to close Oakland, had to remove Jackson from the commissionship in charge of the police department. With a four-year record of questionable character, what right has Dr. Jackson to plead for sympathy upon the ground that the vice element has even lost faith in him?"

UPHOLDS BAUCUS.
"Do not let us confuse you. Former Chief Petersen is not an issue in this election any more than former Chief Woods, both of whom Commissioner Jackson could not force to do his bidding in police affairs. The issue is in choosing between Baucus and Jackson which one will give the best service. I ask you to select Baucus because he will work with me, while Commissioner Jackson has never and cannot work with me.

"I have never been affiliated politically with either Baucus or Jackson, but I have worked with both of them in the city council. I have faith in the word of Baucus and his backbone to stand under pressure, while I have learned from bitter experience that Jackson's word means absolutely nothing.

"Give me support and hold me responsible. I do not want to have my hands tied. Remember you have already elected me. This appeal is made in the name of the people and I have fought for you and I want to work for you. Go to the polls tomorrow and forget about the candidates and me from every personal angle. Just remember that there is work to be done and I can do it if you will give me the men. I will abide by your decision gladly. Signed "JOHN L. DAVIE."

LONE NOTE TO LOCAL WOMAN
SUICIDE CLEW

Miss Leonora Simpson of this city has never received that last letter which Gustav Henrich, an inventor and mechanic, addressed to her before his death. Before he mailed the epistle, Henrich, a former Californian, who for the past two years had lived and worked in Chicago, hanged himself by a piece of rope to a spike in the wall of his bed chamber. The communication was found upon the discovery of the body, from which life had been extinct several days. With it was found a completed invention for the safe lighting of gas jets and burners. A litter of iron scraps on his work table testified to the tremendous effort which he had put into his last contribution to industrial life.

Henrich left California about two years ago. He set up his workshop in Chicago. He led an isolated existence, devoted entirely to his inventions. Those with whom he came in contact looked upon him as a recluse, a person whose actions excited him from intercourse with his fellows. It was not strange then that during his disappearance of several days he should not be missed.

When good fortune arrived in a telegram from C. F. Larsen, president of the National Lighter Company, insisting upon the presence of Henrich and a supply of lighters, Edward C. Reese, from whom he leased his rooms, took the message to his door. There was no answer. The Chicago-avenue police responded to the emergency call. They broke down the door and found Henrich's body. He had been dead for several days. Larsen had made an appointment to meet Henrich on Sunday in the telegram, which was never delivered, appearing for a capacity supply of lighters, time and files.

"Recently Henrich has exhibited signs of mental derangement," says Larsen, who appears to be more familiar with the former Californian than any other man in Chicago. "His condition was due, I believe, to study and a dogged devotion to his work."

The epistle which was addressed to Miss Leonora Simpson of this city hinted at a love affair. It was unsigned. It was disconnected and rambling in tone.

BATTLES POLICEMAN.
John J. Sweetman doesn't like to be awakened from his beauty sleep, and that's why he's in the city jail today, after a painful visit to the emergency hospital. Sweetman was sleeping on the sidewalk at Third street and Broadway, when Policeman James Chierser awoke him; Sweetman resisted it and an argument started. He was taken to the emergency hospital, bandaged where the policeman's club had landed in subduing him, and held for police court.
